

2010 Yukon Yearly

An Official Publication of the 21st Annual Klondike Derby

A Winter Scouting Adventure Awaits

It is time to start planning for the 2010 Klondike Derby to be held on February 19 – 21, 2010, at Camp Chawanakee in Shaver Lake California. This is the 21st consecutive year that the Sequoia Council has put on this great event.

Troops and Crews from around California are invited to participate in this winter adventure. Camp Chawanakee will be transformed into the Alaskan Yukon where scouts will be traversing the frontier, going from town to town testing their scout skills, competing for gold, and demonstrating the Patrol Method. Start planning now for a great Scouting adventure!

Mandatory Winter Awareness Training

Success at the Klondike Derby is all about preparation. We will do our best to help you prepare your unit for this Scouting Adventure. The Troop Scoutmaster, Assistant Scout Masters, Senior Patrol Leader, and other interested Scouts need to attend Winter Awareness Training. This event will be put on by trained Scouters and assisted by Herb Bauers Sporting Goods. Don't miss this opportunity to get important information about how to safely prepare for an overnight snow camping activity. You will also hear from event organizers on important tips to prepare for the activities.

The Event will be held as follows:

Time and Date:

Saturday January 9th, 2010
9:00am until noon.

Location:

Northwest Church
5415 N. West Ave.
Fresno, CA 93711

Unit Preparation

Preparing a Troop or Crew for an overnight snow camping adventure is no small task. It takes months of planning to be sure your unit is ready to take on the cold and possibly wet weather. Be prepared by planning in advance, following the Guide to Safe Scouting and checking the type of clothing to be worn by your Scouts.

Events

The following is a partial list of activities that will be offered at the 2010 Klondike Derby.

Spike Drive – Visit historic Chinese Camp and test your skills and strength by driving a stake into a rail-road tie.

The Great Sled Race – Starting in Anchorage, this event will challenge your Patrol's physical endurance, teamwork and Scout skills. For this event you will need a sled capable of transporting one of your Patrol members plus Patrol supplies.

Log Saw – The town of Dawson will host the log saw. Use an eight foot long bow saw to cut tamarack logs. When you're done, brand the stump with the BSA emblem.

Log Pull and Tug-of-War – Visit Whitehorse Canada to participate in the Log Pull and Tug of War.

Log Lift (knots) – Novoarkhangelsk (known today as Sitka, Alaska) will be the location for the Log Lift. Use the common Scout Knots to hoist a log in the air – timing is everything.

Snow Sculptures – At the end of the Dalton Highway, along the North Slope of Alaska, near the Arctic Ocean, lies an unincorporated community known as Deadhorse. This is the name of a new town at Klondike this year. The activity of this town will involve snow sculpturing. We encourage the scouts of the patrols to be thinking about and picturing in your mind a creative snow sculpture and COME PREPARED with all you will need to help you build such. We invite you to come and participate in this first ever Sequoia Council Klondike snow sculpturing town.

Snow Melt – Using only tinder and wood (no special ingredients), build a fire in record time.

Search and Rescue – Kodiak, Alaska is a major point of operations for the United States Coast Guard. Test your advanced first aid and navigation skills to locate, assess, treat and transport a lost victim. Space is limited and advanced registration is required. Contact David Pomaville at 283-2505 to learn more.

Did you know the Klondike offers many opportunities for Scouts to complete Trail to First Class and various Merit Badge requirements? You can download a list at <http://www.seqbsa.org/Klondike.htm>

Scouts with disabilities who may need transportation assistance can call the Scout Office, and we will help to provide accommodations.

Registration Deadlines

Mushing into Camp is Part of the Experience

Scouts and Scouters must hike into and out of camp, packing all their personal and pulling troop gear, hopefully on sleds. A note to the wise, “Don’t overload your sled.” It makes moving the sled so much more difficult. Scoutmasters, watch your Scouts. Don’t allow your Scouts to overheat by carrying too big a personal load and straining to pull an overloaded sled. Hike together on the trail and always use the buddy system.

Troops are required to practice “Leave No Trace” and to pack only that which is necessary for the trip. Instead of packing in bulky and heavy ice chests, we suggest putting food in food bags to save space and weight. While campfires are great, they do not provide as much warmth as a well-fed scout. So instead of bonfire wood, bring plenty of food to keep your personal internal heaters burning warm.

Stake Your Claim at the Claim Jumpers Camp

Camping will be in the Camp Chawanakee summer assembly-activity area, which is between the waterfront, the flagpoles and the Trading Post. Units will have to cross the bridge to get to the Events Area. The towns will be located along the trail from the dining hall to the point lodge (the territorial capitol). Porta-potties will be at the camping area and along the events trail. Garbage cans and a dumpster will be located at the Dining Hall across the bridge from the camping area. Please be sure to use them. A water point will be available by the Dining hall also.

Safety First Guideline

On Friday night, a check-in post will be at the registration trailer in camp. Units, please stay together when sledding to camp; the SPL and an adult must check your unit into camp. This is a safety control point to prevent lost scouts or groups.

Adjustments to your registration must be made at the council office prior to February 15th. We will not handle money or process adjustments at the Klondike. We will report numbers to the council accounting office the following week.
